THE DEMOCRATIC PLAN

Campaign in Ohio,

HATCHED AT A CONFERENCE

In New York City-Campbell Must Be Nominated for Governor-The Fight Between the Protection and Free Trade Wings.

generally.
Since that Convention it has leaked out that Myers, in order to, make certain prominent Democrats in Pike county believe that Brice favored the nomination of Campbell, told a very plausible story—and it comes from one who received it from Myers—enjoining secrecy; tut the gentleman compared notes sufficiently to discover that he had told secret or stores the same story, requesticiently to discover that he had told several persons the same story, requesting each to consider it confidential.

The story is that Brice, McLean, Myers, Townsend and several other Democrats held a consolitation in New York recently on the situation in Ohio. Various penderous matters were under consideration. After talking about the Senatorship, Myers said it would not be for either Brice or McLean to aspire for that honor at press at. They, of course, agreed with him, and McLean authorized Myers to say for him that he would not be a candidate under any circumstances, and Brice authorized Townsend to say the same thing for him. to say the same thing for him.

stances, and Brice authorized Townsens to say the same thing for bim.

The next great question (and one of the pith and moment) considered was the most available man to nominate for Governor. The candidates were considered one by one with much solemnity. The conclusion was finally arrived at that Campbell was just the man, Cal. Brice particularly favoring him.

What should be done with the slaughtered a naturally followed. Neal was complimented highly as a thorough Democrat of unquestioned popularity, and being a strong tariff reformer, the conclusion was arrived at that he should go on the ficket with Campbell, for Lieutenant Governor, so as to catch the go on the ticket with Campbell, for Lieutenant Governor, so as to catch the coon a comin' or a gwine.

But up rose Myers in his majesty and might and protested, saying that Neal was too prominent a man, and was making too good a fight for first place to be done up in that way; that it would not do to displease his friends by making him play second fieldle, &c.

What to do with Mr. Neal was then the problem. Myers soon solved the conundrum by suggesting that Neal be made Chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee, thus keeping him inade Chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee, thus keeping him to the front, and that if the Legislature should become Democratic, Mr. Neal could be pushed for U. S. Senator to succeed Payne. This was regarded as a happy solution of the vexed problem, and the meeting adjourned in the usual order. And this is the "confidential" story being circulated throughout the State.

The following is vouched for as being be real facts of the meeting in New York: McLean, Myers and Campbell held a McLean, Myers and Campbell held a consultation in New York, where it was agreed that Campbell must be nominated for Governor at all hazards and McLean go to the Senate. A plan of conducting the canvass in Ohio was agreed upon, which was developed in the "Campaign Opened" in ten minutes' speaking by Myers at Waverly, and which made six columns of matter when printed. The tion was a losing issue, and the fight must be made on State issues. A how! was set up all along the line in this direction, and the fight is now between the protection and the tariff reform wings of the Democratic party.

Columns, O., August 6.—The friends of James E. Campbell desire very much to create the impression that Col. Brice favors the nomination of Campbell for Governor, but knowing ones state that while Brice is saying nothing he prefers the nomination of a man who supported the Cleveland Administration, and is in line with his party on the tariff question.

It pleveloped at the Pike County Convention that Myers, in a burst of confidence, told several Democrats that the resolutions he desired adopted had been passed on by Mr. Brice, who wished to have the ideas expressed adopted quite generally.

A PECULIAR CASE

An Action of Ex-Secretary Pairchild Re versed by the freasury Department. Washington, D. C., August 6.—Several years ago the Court of Claims gave judgment for $96,000 tn favor of Poze Dickinson, of Tennessee, for cotten de stroyed by General Burnside during the Some years after Congress provided the payment of the judgment Col. Woods, the Attorney in the case, demanded and received from the Treesury Department a draft for the full amount. The draft was of course made payable to Dickinson, but he refused to endorse it as he was afraid Woods would retain more chan he thought him entitled to. Woods wanted $24,000, or one-fourth of the entire amount for his services. Several attempts were made to settle the case, but without success. Finally Secretary Fairchild recalled the original draft and issued in its stead, two drafts, both payable to Dickinson, and delivered one of them, amounting to $24,000 to Woods and the other for $72,000 to Dickinson. The latter, however, refused to endorse the draft held by the attorney and declined to draw the money on his own. In the meantime Woods brought suit in Washington to establish his right to a lien on the judgment, but the case was dismissed for want of jurisdiction. More recently the case was again heard at the Treasury Department, and to-day Acting Secretary Batchellor decided to pay the entire amount of the claim to Dickinson and to leave the question of attorneys fees to be settled between the parties. The demanded and received from the Trees leave the question of attorneys fees to be settled between the parties. The drafts outstanding were accordingly re-called and a new one issued in favor of Dickinson.

day's conflagration can be given. The first fire started at 6:15 o'clock p m. in the roof of a lodging house on Railroad avenue, the third door from Post street. A dead calm prevailed at the time and the spectators supposed that the firemen would speedily bring the flames under control. This could have been done if better precautions had been taken, but the superintendent of the water works was out of the city and for some reason the men failed to respond to the call for more pressure. The heat created a current of air and in less than half an hour the block of trames enveloped in sames and burning shingles and other debris filled the air, igniting several of the adjoining blocks. At the same time the opposite block to that in which the fire originated, in which stood the Pacific Hotel, one of the handsomest structurers in the Northwest, took fire. It was now 10 o'clock and by that time the high wind prevailed from the southwest, and it was evident that the entire business portion of the city was in danger.

The work of clearing away the debris has already begun, and the work of rebuilding will also be commenced at once. The City Conneil has held a meeting and passed a resolution providing for the erection of wooden buildings in the burned district, and a mass meeting of citizens sustained it unanimously.

Called for Last Evening Fails to Materialise.
Its Object.
A special meeting of Council was called for last evening at the request of Messrs. Ferrell, Harrell and Marsh, members of the Board of Equalisation and Appeals, for the purpose of considering the report of the Board, and taking and Appeals, for the purpose of considering the report of the Board, and taking further action on an ordinance presented by the Board to Council, and read once, at the regular meeting held July 23, It was not until nearly half-past eight o'clock that a quorum was obtained in the Second Branch. The members who responded to their names as the roll was called were Messrs. Arkle, Balley, Copps, Craig, Davison, Ellingham, Edmarth, Hadlich, Marsh, O'Kane, Robrecht, Secley and President Gruse. There was no quorum in the First Branch at this time, but President Gruse decided to proceed with business in the hope that Mayor Scabright would be able to scare upenough of the members of that body to consider what business the Second might prepare for them.

The ordinance referred to in the call was the one providing for the appointment of a person or persons to search out the money, credits or other investments subject to taxation overlooked by, or concealed from, the Assessors. This was the first matter laid before the Second Branch last evening. Clerk Thoner read it a second time and then remarks were in order. Mr. Seeley said he would like to hear from some one who was posted, something more about the plan and scope of the messure than was set forth in the ordinance; the matter was an important one and should be dealt with carefully. Mr. Davison said was set forth in the ordinance; the mat-ter was an important one and should be dealt with carefully. Mr. Davison said he could see no reason for paying any one 10 per cent as this ordinance pro-poses to do on all taxes levied on assess-ments that may be made by virtue of in-formation made by the person employed to act as inquisitor. Mr. Davisou moved to lay the matter on the table and that was done.

vas done. The report of the Board of Equalizaion and Appeals, showing the reductions and corrections of double and erroneous assessments made by it, was then read. It was quite a lengthy document and Olerk Thoner was nearly exhausted by the time he was through, and thoroughly disgusted when he learned that he had had his labor for nothing, for the First having failed to meet, any action taken on the report would have to be had again, according to Mr. Gruse's ruling, when both branches were in session. He made this announcement and the Branch adjourned without having really done anything.
